

Medical studies in Mainz and Dijon, followed by internal medicine and intensive care training in Mainz, post doc at the Center of Excellence in Vascular Biology, Brigham & Women's Hospital and Harvard Medical School in Boston. Return to Mainz, board certification in internal medicine and intensive care medicine. Senior position in internal intensive medicine/toxicology in Mainz. Habilitation in 2009 at the University Medical Center Mainz. Change to Frankfurt, completion of residency in cardiology/interventional cardiology in Frankfurt. Changed to Herzzentrum Trier, where he was most recently head of interventional cardiology including structural interventions such as TAVI, clips, LAA occlusions, etc. Appointment as associate professor at the University of Mainz 2020. Since December 2022 independent in the Groupe Cardiologie Hopitaux-Robert-Schumann Kirchberg and INCCI Haerz-Zenter Luxembourg.